WASEHIAN

Dedication . . .

To our beloved fathers and mothers, whose patience, love, and sympathy have given us courage, inspiration, and the necessary perseverance to keep up the fight throughout the years of our high school education, do we, the class of nineteen hundred and forty-six, lovingly dedicate this edition of our Wasehian.

Superintendent's Message

The pictures contained in the Wasehian of 1946 gives tangible proof of activities and experiences of the students of Wapato High School. While we look back upon these activities as times of interest and pleasure, we should also remember that through this means we added much to our education.

Education consists of something more than memorization of facts. An educated person demonstrates that he is able to apply knowledge learned. He is willing to shoulder his part and adapt himself readily to any situation that presents itself.

Again, as in the past, the Wasehian demonstrates that we have tried to apply the knowledge and skill learned, and I am sure we have gained thereby.

H. J. KRAMER
Superintendent of Schools

Principal's Message

The past school year has brought to Wapato High School many successes of which we can be proud. It is always a pleasure to see youth step up and assume responsibilities and accomplish things. Student leaders this year have cooperated in a fine way to make possible such events as Student Day, class guidance meetings, assembly programs, Christmas Vespers, and Open House. We hope that students are becoming increasingly conscious of the fact that Wapato High School exists for them, and that what the high school is depends largely upon their working with faculty and administration in planning and carrying out a program of work and activities wherein every pupil can find something to meet his own needs. Our congratulations and best wishes go to those who are graduating; to those who will yet be with us goes the hope that another year will bring us additional reasons to be proud of our school.

School Board

This is the first year under the consolidation that enlarged the Wapato District No. 54 to include the Parker Heights District No. 124. This consolidation added some 225 pupils to the new district No. 206 and swelled the total enrollment well over 2000.

With consolidation the School Board had increased from three to five members. The new district was divided into five Director Districts and each area is represented as follows: District 1, Frank Labberton; District 2, Hiram J. Dart; District 3, F. C. Olsen; District 4, Walter Hart; Chairman of the Board, and District 5, John Gans.

F. C. Olsen and Hiram J. Dart were former members of School District No. 124 and John Gans and Walter Hart of School District No. 54, Frank Labberton being the new member of the reorganized Board. To these men we owe the many fine things we enjoy at the Wapato Public Schools.

Board of Control

Under the auspices of the Board of Control, headed by president Richard Maib; with Calvin Radach as vice president; Trixie Thompson as secretary; Darlene Trudeau as treasurer; Bill Simonis as social chairman; Lenora Eichler as assistant social chairman; Rilla Quantrille as advertising manager; Bob Parnell, Boys' Club president; June Polley, Girls' Club president; Calvin Radach, Senior class president; John Geffe, Junior class president; Mary Anna Hoyt, Sophomore class president; and Richard Eichler, Freshman class president, the Associated Student Body began its term, September 3, 1945, the first time any of the present high school classes had experienced a peacetime high school. Befitting the grandness and novelty of such an experience, we started the year effectively with an All-School Mixer on September 14 and a 96% sales of A. S. B. tickets. Many new privileges such as class yell leaders, busses to games, and our assembly committee, and many renewed privileges, such as the Basketball-Football Dance and the student conference were afforded us.

This year for the first time in five years we were allowed to transport the students and our band in school busses to out-of-town games, giving us a much larger rooting section for these games.

Headed by the adviser, Russell Scott, an assembly committee, composed of the social chairman and assistant of the A. S. B. and the social chairmen of the various classes, helped the classes, clubs, and the yell leaders plan and organize better and peppier assemblies.

An election committee of three was appointed for the year. Those three were Calvin Radach, June Polley, and Olga Belzer. The duty of this newly appointed committee was to count any and all ballots for any form of A. S. B. elections.

Continually busy this year doing many new and different things, among which was the sign above the stairway in the Senior High hall, was our advertising department headed by our A. S. B. advertising manager and art director, Mr. Dolan.

Among the many social activities sponsored by the Associated Student Body were our second annual Sno-Ball, a formal ball, and our Football-Basketball dance, a sports dance in honor of our lettermen, held on December 14 and March 22. Both dances were well attended and very successful.

On March 28, Student Day, the teachers', principal's, and advisers' stations were manned by the students. This was topped off by a very successful Board of Control assembly.

The Yakima Senior High School was the scene of a student conference sponsored by the Yakima Valley Junior College, Saturday, March 9.

These were only a few of our A. S. B. enterprises which included many more activities such as the purchasing of smaller Red Devil emblems and the sponsoring of many drives during the year.

Despite certain conflicts and misunderstandings, we of the Board of Control have tried to be just and unprejudiced and have tried to do what we feel the majority of the students would want done. We are honored that you chose us to represent you, and we have tried to merit your faith and trust in us by doing the best we could with the best interests at heart. We would like to thank you—the Associated Student Body—for all the co-operation and help you have given us and wish to you students who will be here next year and to next year's Board of Control the best of luck in whatever you undertake. Next year there should be more and better chances for development of student government and with the co-operation and help of everyone, you—next year's student body—can make it one of the most dynamic years Wa Hi has ever witnessed.

Class of 1946

On the good ship "Class of 1946" a number of timid students began a four-years' cruise through high school. It has been a stormy voyage at times, and many times the breakers have been nearly victorious; but the God of the Sea has managed to keep peace among the angry waves.

At "Port Freshman" the officers introduced were: Mate, Vern Thomas; Purser, Anna Merritt; and Pilot, Miss Alice Beutel. The crew enjoyed athletics. Richard Maib won his letter this first year. Those on board enjoyed the islands, "Picnic" and "Freshman Graduation." Bill Simonis and Lucile Schanzenbach were the most popular of the company.

The company rested three months at "Port Sophomore" before resuming the voyage. This year's new officers were: Captain, Vern Thomas; Mate, Wilbur Kwak; Purser and Officer of the Watch, Anna Merritt; Jimmy Legs, Trixie Thompson; and Pilots, Mrs. Dow and Miss Lyman. First the company met with the company on the ship "Class of 1947" and gave a Sadie Hawkins' Day for both ships' companies. This year the athletic ability seemed more in earnest as Don Brown and Vern Thomas joined Richard in the football ranks; and Don Yearout, Bill Simonis, and Dan Falen show outstanding basketball ability. The company viewed the island "Sophomore Picnic."

At "Port Junior" the new officers were: Captain, Wilbur Kwak; Mate, Richard Maib; Purser, Trixie Thompson; Officer of the Watch, Bob Parnell; Jimmy Legs, Bill Simonis. Mrs. Wise and Mrs. Dow steered us safely past the boulders. The men of physical ability gained greater glory this year. Some of the company became officers on the head ship. There were: Anna Merritt, Purser; Trixie Thompson, Officer of the Watch; and Bill Simonis, Jimmy Legs' Assistant, while Wilbur Kwak visited the head ship as the representative from the "Class of 1946." Our ship won many races that year. Our company gave a promenade over which reigned Queen Lucile Schanzenbach in honor of the "Class of 1945." The third year of the cruise closed as the company set foot on the shores of "Port Senior."

"Port Senior" was a very pleasant stop. One more year was left to complete this cruise. A great many more of the company became officers on the head ship. Richard Maib was now Captain of the ruling ship; Calvin Radach, Mate; Trixie Thompson, Purser; Bill Simonis, Jimmy Legs; Lenora Eichler, Jimmy Legs' Assistant; June Polley, Assistant Keeper of the Watch; and Bob Parnell, Male Captain. Officers on the "Class of 1946" were: Captain, Calvin Radach; Mate, Alan McDonald; Purser, Aileen Shaw; Officer of the Watch, George Murphy; Jimmy Legs, Don Yearout; Pilots, Miss Upson and Miss Curtiss.

Olga Belzer, an outstanding passenger, edited the annual fleet log and was Valedictorian of the company. Another intelligent one was Verne Munson, Salutatorian, president of the science club, secretary of F. F. A., and vice president of Boys' Club. Joe Favilla was president of F. F. A. and was Tolo King. Dorothy Elder was outstanding in G. A. C.

The main social event of the year for the vessel was the Junior-Senior Party. The company gave an assembly which pleased the fleet and a play, "The Bat," which pleased the fleet more.

The last week of the voyage was filled with good-byes and in wishing the other ships good fortune. In this week two days were set aside to celebrate. The first was Baccalaureate Sunday and the second, at "Port Graduation," Commencement. Lumps rose in their throats and tears in their eyes as the company said good-bye to the fleet they loved so well.

Junior Review

To begin a most successful year, the Junior Class of 1945 and 1946, after considering carefully, chose the class officers for the year. The offices were capably filled by John Geffe, president; Lyle Noble, vice-president; Ray Cummings, secretary; Fred Miller, treasurer; and Paul Schilperoort, social chairman.

Paul was an inspiration to the rest of the class. In his position he had charge of the assembly of March 15 and the Prom of May 3.

The guidance committee, composed of Beverly Baker, Rilla Quantrille, Valeta Geffe, Bob Brown and Gordon Stover, planned the meetings of the class. Beverly Baker, chairman of the committee, arranged the plans of the new "Hello Day" which was sponsored by the Junior Class. During "Hello Day" everyone wore a tag bearing his name.

Rilla Quantrille did "double duty," too. She held the position of the advertising manager of the A. S. B.

Rae Dean Graham, another enthusiastic member of the class was the vice president of G. A. C. She helped to make the G. A. C. playday a success.

The All-Hi play, "What a Life," included two people from the Junior Class. They were: Darlene Trudeau, as the secretary, and Tim Thompson as Henry Aldrich. Darlene also budgets the books as treasurer of the A. S. B. She spends a great deal of her time on this job and is very capably attending to it.

Among the outstanding athletes of the year were John Geffe, football and basketball; and Lyle Noble in football. Acting as basketball manager was our own Colin Fitzsimonds.

Promoting pep and cheering the teams were our two keen yell leaders, Tim Thompson, Yell King, and Patty Yearout.

The outstanding event of the year was the Prom in the junior high gymnasium. Valeta Geffe was crowned queen at intermission by John Geffe. The princess Darlene Trudeau, Marie Martin, Mable Smithwick, and Delores Haussler presided at the gala event. A very enjoyable evening was spent in Hawaii dancing to the music of the Williams band.

Mrs. Wise was our capable adviser and counsellor.

It is the sincere wish of this writer and the departing senior class of 1946 that you will enjoy your last year as much as we did.

First row: Delores Haussler, Charlotte Vance, Lois Adolf, Marie Martin, Fern Elliott, Helen Triese.

Jumping out of the "green horn" classification, the potential class of '48 turned out with much activity all through the year. With a year of "learning the ropes" behind them, the sophomores have begun to assume an active part in school affairs. Most of them have managed to acquire the extra height that distinguishes them from their persecuted companions, the freshmen.

In all contests held between classes the sophomores were right in there pitching. In the March of Dimes contest we collected more than all the other classes combined. In the sale of tickets for the school play the sophomores won again. This was because of the salesmanship of Lois Day who sold more tickets than anyone else. In the safety contest Ruth Shockley, Jackie King, and Phyllis Snow won more honors for the class. Ruth Shockley also turned in many new yells and songs for the yell contest, which were used.

In all sports the sophomores made themselves noticeable. In football Esau Moss and Joe Hecker were exceptionally good players and both won letters. Another sophomore that brought us honor by earning a letter in football was Norman Aller.

In basketball Bill Green was chosen to play on the "A" squad. He worked himself up to the first five and at the end of the season was named on the All-Northern team. The basketball "B" squad was composed entirely of sophomores.

Baseball, track and tennis saw many sophomore students among their players.

The feminine part of the class took their share of sports in G. A. C. A large percentage of the Girls' Athletic Club was comprised of sophomores. Half of the G. A. C. officers were sophomore girls, which goes to show that the class was well represented.

The debate team was composed mostly of members of this class. Three sophomores journeyed to Tacoma for debates and won several honors. The debate teams also held debates with several neighboring towns. The sophomore debates were Gene Lloyd, Don O'Kelley, Donna Riddle, and Opal Whitaker.

The guidance committee supplied the class with interesting guidance meetings. Talks on different vocations were given and a skit was given on the right and wrong way to apply for a job. A round table discussion on attitudes of the high school students was also given.

The two most important activities of the class for the year were the sophomore assembly and party. The assembly was given in February. It was based on excerpts of different radio programs. The party was held in April and was a great success. There was dancing in one half of the gym and games in the other half.

Miss Fuchs and Miss Hill have advised us through an interesting and enjoyable year.

The entire sophomore class is looking forward to next year and is eager to partake in all the next year's activities. There isn't a crystal ball handy, but, nevertheless, it seems safe to predict that this group, rarin' to go as it is, will certainly be heard of a great deal in the future.

Freshman Class

The Freshman class started the school year with the election of its officers. The class guidance committee was selected by the officers and the advisers.

The Freshman class participated enthusiastically in the A. S. B. ticket sales drive, the War Bond drive, the March of Dimes campaign, and the T. B. drive.

The Freshman party took place March 9 at which the students of the class displayed some of their many talents.

The Freshmen take great pride in their enthusiastic nature. In pep assemblies and contests they are constantly in the lead. Leo Besel is to be congratulated for his safety poem which took second place in the contest.

There are several boys and girls in the Senior High band, several boys in the F. F. A., and several girls in G. A. C.

The class had several guidance program meetings with varied speakers. Judge Buck spoke on juvenile delinquency, Mr. Rouleau spoke on bank savings, Mrs. Kramer spoke on the duties of a nurse, several members of the class spoke on manners, and Miss Kirst spoke on the English department. The class also enjoyed talks by members of the football and basketball teams. The Freshman teams demonstrated some of the plays to the class.

This year the Freshman football team won two games and lost two. They played various teams throughout the valley.

The basketball team won five games and lost seven during the season. In a seven team tournament, held in Yakima, they placed fourth. C. E. Pierce was coach for both of these sports.

ACTIVITIES

Journalism

Second row: Jim Rose, Verne Munson, Jean Christiansen, Mary Jo Munch, Beverly Baker, Mary Lou Strom, Joe Favilla, Gordon Elliott.

Under the capable leadership of Miss Kirst, their adviser, the Journalism staff has gained much experience in editing and publishing the weekly "Wolf Howl."

So that the members will gain more experience by working on different assignments, a new staff is selected by Miss Kirst every nine weeks. This prevents anybody from the same assignment two consecutive quarters.

Projection Staff

Showing educational films to the classes and assemblies is the main job of the projection staff, which has been under the watchful eye of Mr. Granholm.

The films, which are received from W. S. C., C. W. C., the Army and Navy, and other places, have greatly increased the students' interest in classroom work.

The boys have also shown films to the Chamber of Commerce and to other clubs in the Wapato district.

First row: Don Houston, Leland Corbin, Warden Hart, Ray Grundhauser, Milton Teegarden, Darrell Smith, Donald Dodge.
Second row: Bill Shroeder, Hillmer Krause, Russell Bennett, Henry Robert, David Powell, James Newbill.

Girls' Club

For the Girls' Club the year of '45-'46 was very successful. An all-girls party held in September was the first event. November marked the date of the first annual Tolo Week. Reigning as king at the Tolo Dance was Joe Favilla with his six princes, George Murphy, Lyle Noble, Vernon Lawrence, Calvin Radach, Dan Falen, and Lewis Hosman. The Lettermen's Banquet became one of the outstanding occasions of the year. Most important event of the year was the annual Mothers' tea and fashion show, with the mothers of all the girls as guests. By selling popcorn, the Girls' Club earned approximately $70. The council painted the sick room.

Boys' Club

Wapato High School's Boys' Club had a rather inactive year due to vacations and other postponements. The Boys' Club saw a home movie presented by Mr. Paul Volkman. The fire which wrought havoc in this school a number of years ago was a part of Mr. Volkman's show.

A man of aviation talent, Mr. James A. Noland of the Yakima Airport, appeared before the club and told of his experiences in the South Pacific while piloting the "Angels of Mercy," better known as planes of the Air Transport Command.

Red Devils

Third row: Bob Pelzer, Bill Simonis, Orville Niesz, John Geffe, Bob Brown.
Fourth row: Wilbur Kwak, George Murphy, Dick Maib.

The Red Devils is a service organization whose purpose it is to promote the general welfare and spirit of Wapato High School.

It is the duty of each Red Devil to be at all school activities such as football and basketball games to help with ticket sales and keep order. They also are responsible for the making and enforcing of various rules to make the school a neat, friendly, and more orderly place.

This year the club, headed by President Wilbur Kwak and under the supervision of Mr. Henley, has enacted some new rules as well as a demerit system.

Any Red Devil who breaks a law of the club gets the usual punishment as well as demerits. At the beginning of this year each member was given 43 points as soon as 15 of these points are taken away, he automatically loses his membership.

Beginning this year each member was given a Red Devil head with the understanding that it would become his property after completing a successful year of service.

Forensics

The debate teams for the first time since the outbreak of the war have again become an active organization.

The question for this season being "Resolved, The Federal Government should establish a Columbia Valley Authority."

Opening the season, they had two practice debates with Marquette, won two conference debates from Marquette, tied one and suffered three loses to Sunnyside. At the conference in Tacoma, each team participated in six debates. Don O'Kelley placed in semi-final extemp in the upper 25%.

FORENSICS

First row: Donna Riddle, Beverly Jean Lee, Opal Whitaker, Etta Mae Hoptowit.

Second row: Miss Betty Fuchs, adviser; Gene Lloyd, Don O'Kelley.

Pep Club

The Pep Club this year has sought to better their organization by making additions and amendments to their constitution. The club adopted a demerit system. The yell leaders automatically become members of the Pep Club.

Half time skits were provided at several basketball games. Girls also did their share of passing out programs and taking tickets at home games.

Once again the girls boosted their treasury by selling shakers and apples.

The Pep Girls annual assembly was presented for the high school. The setting was in the famous Mark Hopkins hotel in San Francisco.

The Red Devils enjoyed the banquet that was given in their honor by the Pep Club. This is an event that both clubs looked forward to all year.

The group was under the capable guidance of Miss Hodges, adviser.

Science Club

With Verne Munson as President, and Mr. Middleton as adviser, the science club of Wapato was newly organized this year.

The plan of the club is to learn more about science through actual practice. Some of the members continued their photography work and others worked further with other chemistry and physics experiments.

The club had several field trips during the second semester. Trips to radio station K I T and the Perry Institute were two of the interesting visits.

Third row: Paul Belzer, Mr. Middleton, adviser.

The purpose of the G. A. C. is to sponsor good sportsmanship and develop physical skill. In order to make this possible the girls have participated in volley ball, basketball, tumbling, badminton, ping-pong, and softball. The members of the G. A. C. sponsored a play day for Sunnyside, Toppenish, and Yakima. It turned out very successfully. April 12 was the G. A. C. party. A grand time was had by all who attended. During May the lettermen had a party which turned out very well. Mrs. Marquerite Wise was the adviser of the Girls' Athletic Club for the past year.

F. F. A.

With a membership of fifty boys, the Wapato Chapter of the Future Farmers of America had a very successful year of activities.

Getting off to a poor start, the F. F. A. judging team placed eighth at Grandview last fall. Another judging team composed of Bill Stobaugh, Glenn Wright, and Vernon Lawrence brought home a second place banner for the chapter in a state-wide swine judging contest at the Janalu farm near Seattle.

One of the highlights of the year was the $500 award made to the chapter by the local Lions Club to buy perpetual livestock projects.

Outstanding in the year's activities was the first annual F. F. A. livestock show here at Wapato. Representatives attended the stock show held in Auburn in April.

First row: Harold Schibig, Jim Clements, Virgil Stover, Joe Morozzo, Paul Polley, Ernest Weeks, Dwight Henley, adviser.
Second row: Jim St. Hilaire, Clifford Evans, Lynn Parton, Dale Kure, Lyle Noble, Richard McMahan, Kenneth Heilman.
Third row: Gordon Elliott, Mervin Logan, Clifton Chezum, Verne Munson, Wilbur Kwak, Joe Favilla, Vernon Lawrence, Pete Hoyt.
Fourth row: Leroy Hoffer, Floyd Amos, Bert Gorham, Bob Bort, Robert Gangle, Don Doyle, Paul Clements.

Band

Under the able direction of Mr. Clarence James, the Wapato High School band had one of its best years. This year, for the first time in five years, part of the band was taken to many of the out of town games. The highlight of the year was the annual spring concert on April 5, 1946, given this year especially for the purpose of raising money for new band uniforms.

Glee Club

The Girls' Chorus was very active this year. The first Annual Christmas Vespers Service was one of the most successful programs ever presented by the Wapato Schools. The Easter Choral Program was also a great success. Both programs were candlelight services. The Chorus entered the Central Washington Music Festival. Doris Armstrong and Irene Thomas entered solos.

First row: Irene Thomas, Joyce McElrea, LaRae Mayo, Gloria Miller, Joanne Friedrich, Joanne Cammeron, Doris Armstrong.

A. S. B. Play

 Second row: Calvin Radach, Anna Merrit, Doris Armstrong, Patty McBride, Dick Lake.

"What a Life"

Under the direction of Mr. Scott, the first dramatic production of the year was presented on November 30, 1945.

The leading role of Henry Aldrich was played by Tim Thompson in Clifford Goldsmith's play, "What a Life."

The climax of the play came when Henry was accused of stealing a majority of the school's band instruments. However, with the finding of several clues which pointed toward George, it was finally proved that Bigelow had committed the crime and had tried to frame Henry.

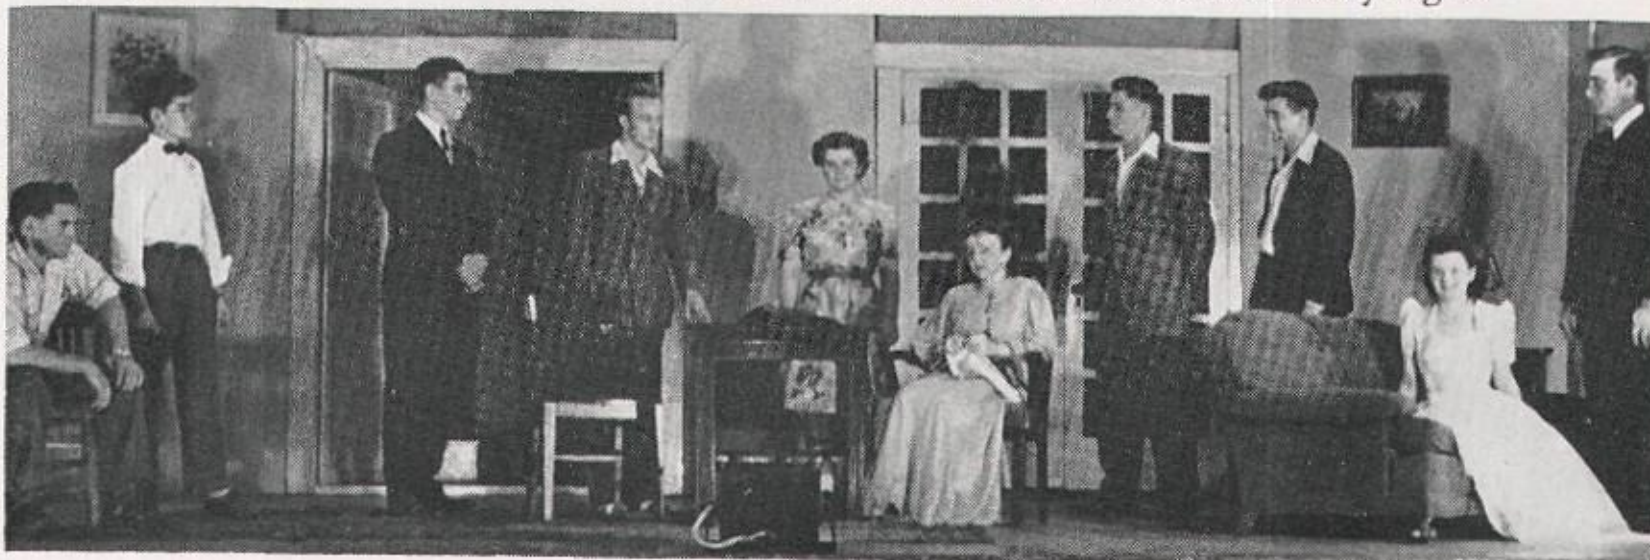

Senior Play

The Senior Play, "The Bat" was presented on April 26.

Adapted from, "The Circular Staircase" by Mary Roberts Rinehart, the play was ably produced and directed by Mr. Scott.

The story concerned itself with the theft of a million dollars that was taken from the Union Bank. The money was hidden in an upstairs room in the leased mansion of Courtleigh Fleming, the "dead" bank president.

Mysterious rappings, two killings, arson, and an unknown man who has been bound and gagged in the garage, are only a few of the events that occurred when the curtain rose on that stormy night.

Joe Favilla, Calvin Radach, George Sargent, Bill Simonis, Caroline Culver, Lenora Eichler, Bob Parnell, James Dart, Rowena White, Dick Maib.

Football

Mars and Thor still stand for war, and football is their game.

Coach Harmon Colby's first call for football found him with ten returning lettermen and a host of ambitious aspirants. He immediately started the tedious task of getting the fellows in shape and turning what then looked like a bunch of green peas into a fighting, victory bound team. He built his team around five returning backfield men and five letter winning linemen.

Richard Maib, 200 pound backfield ace, for the last four years has received valley wide recognition as one of the best kickers and ball carriers the valley has ever seen. Richard won the much coveted Inspirational Player award and greatly deserved the honor bestowed upon him.

Alan McDonald, diminutive but dynamic quarterback, received the Honorary Captaincy award for his leadership and drive with which he sparked the team both in words and deeds. He excelled at blocking and was a tricky ball carrier.

Beside these two honorary award winners, the other lettermen were, George Murphy, speedy halfback and excellent passer; Esau Moss, sophomore fullback; John Geffe, halfback and end alternate; Lyle Noble, guard; Harry Parton, guard; Pete Hoyt, end; Norman Nesary, tackle, who was injured at mid season, and Paul Schilperoort, end, who proved to be the bad luck member of the squad. Injuries kept him out of suit to the extent that he was unable to receive his letter again this year.

BASKETBALL B SQUAD

Basketball

As cold weather sets in and old mother earth is covered with her first coat of snow, the athletic minded youth turns his interest from football to basketball.

This year at Wa Hi the first turn-out for the favorite of all winter sports saw a varied description of aspirants, Sophomores and Seniors, tall and short, lettermen and beginners. Out of these fellows Coach Colby took over the task of making a team. He built his varsity around five returning lettermen and members of last year's "B" squad.

It was very obvious that he would have to cut his squad down to a reasonable size, and he did this with immaculate care.

Coach Bob Dolan took over the "B" squad and did a very fine job. This enabled Coach Colby to spend all of his time with the varsity.

Wapato was placed in the Northern Class A league in the valley. Out of the six teams in the league Wapato had to place at least fourth to get a berth in the Valley tourney. They lost the fourth place berth to Yakima when Toppenish, who had not as yet won a game, toppled the Wolves in the last league game.

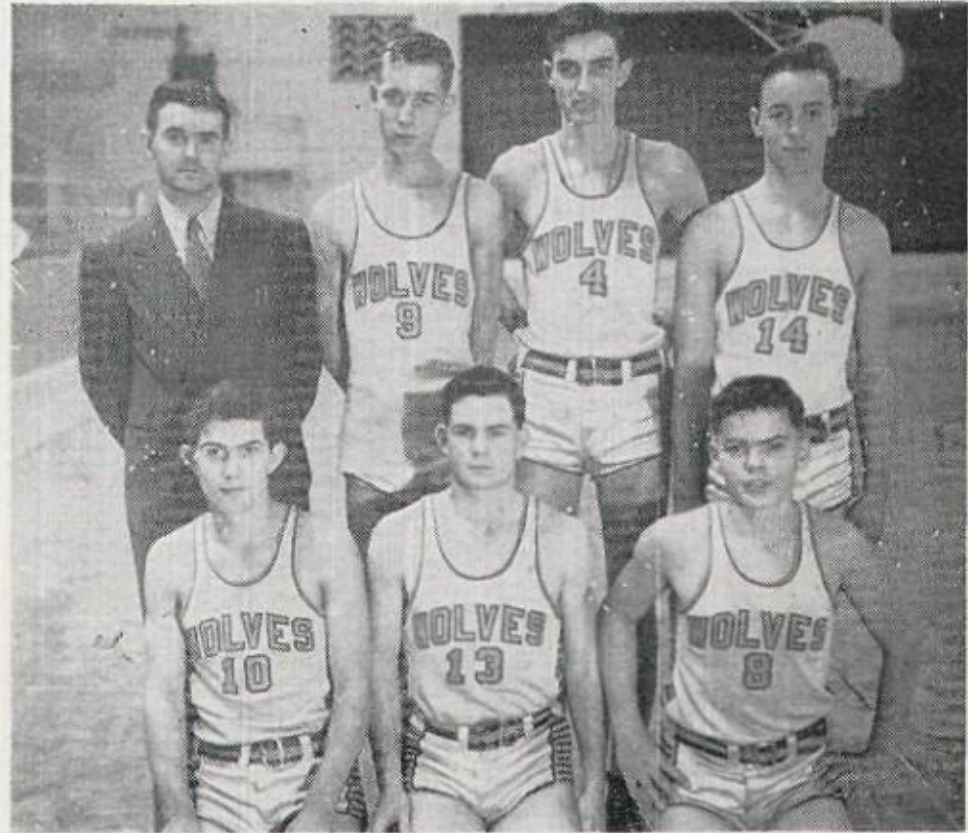

Wapato had the satisfaction, though, of beating Ellensburg, alley Champions, in a thrilling over-time game and also defeating the vaunted Yakima Pirates in a return encounter.

Five seniors played their last basketball game for Wapato against Grandview. These five were Dan Falen, last year's inspirational player, George Murphy, Dick Maib, Wilbur Kwak, and Bob Parnell. Out of these Seniors, Bob Parnell, was voted the coveted honor of inspirational player and Dick Maib was voted honorary captain. Parnell, who was named honorary captain on last year's team, was an excellent ball handler and a valuable rebound man. Maib, who took over the center duties, was a good ball hawk and also a valuable rebounder.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

Baseball

First row: Elmer Geffe, Jim Rose, Delmar Beegle, Robert Gaddis, Leonard Calhoun, Walter Elder.
Second row: Homer Dalton, Lyle Noble, Dan Falen, Gene Elder, Don Kohls, George Murphy, Wilbur Kwak, C. E. Pierce, coach.

Baseball took on considerably more interest at Wapato this year because the Wolves were last year's valley champions and because a league to climax in a big state tourney was formed.

Coach Pierce had nearly his entire varsity back with additional of several more talented players. On the pitching staff was George Murphy, Don Kohls and Alvin Myers. Homer Dalton played behind the plate with Richard Maib at first, Gene Elder at second, John Geffe at third, and Bob Parnell at short. Dick Van Nostern, Verlan Clem, and Tomio Uchida were utility infielders. In the outfield were Bill Stobaugh, Wilbur Kwak, Dan Falen, Bill Green, and Lyle Noble.

Track

Coach Harmon Colby's track men worked diligently and showed up well in the meets. Facilities and equipment are very limited and considering these factors the team, under the captaining of Pete Hoyt, has done very well.

Wapato won a triangular meet with Toppenish and Goldendale and came in fourth in the big invitational at Yakima.

Tennis

Wapato's tennis team under the direction of Mrs. Wise won three matches, lost two, and tied one. They have several more matches to play before the season ends and prospects look good.

The tennis team is composed of: Dick Burgess, first singles; Jean Christiansen, first singles; Bill Kistler, first doubles; Ray Cummings, first doubles; Valee Joe Myers, first doubles; Joyce Cody, second singles; Marie Martin, first doubles; Bus Rodman, Dean Smith, second doubles; Wayne Johnson, second doubles; Dick Lake, second doubles; Eleanor Culver, second doubles; Helen Triese, second doubles. Other members of the squad are: Jackie King, Bill Irsfeld, James Dekker, Ray Grundhauser, Ed Isherwood, Roland Schanzenbach and Russell Bennett and Bonita Olney as managers.
